[illegible], Oct. 15.—The Times' special from [illegible] Sheridan, via Camp Robinson, gives an account of an important council at Camp [illegible]. Thirteen of the principal chiefs of Red Cloud's band of Sioux met Col. Thornburgh and Maj. Carlton, and the pipe of peace [illegible] around and good feeling prevailed. Red Cloud said he was getting old and tired of war, and assured Thornburgh that he would arrest and deliver fugitive savages if they should enter his camp. He said that if the Indians now fleeing from the army had been properly treated by their agents there would have been no trouble. The continued loyalty of the Sioux was vouched for, and the council was brought to an end.

Porter's Case.

[illegible], Oct. 14.—In the Fitzjohn Porter [illegible] to-day, Dr. Wm L. Faxon, of Quincy, was recalled. He was assistant surgeon [illegible] campaign of the 32d Massachusetts [illegible] in Morrill's division, Porter's [illegible]. He testified that on the 28th of August [illegible] marched from Warrenton Junction in [illegible] and reached Bristol station in [illegible]. Near the latter place he saw [illegible] in front of a house five or six [illegible] from the road, and heard him say [illegible] orderly, "Go and tell Morrill [illegible] division;" adding, "I don't care [illegible] I don't get there." On cross-examination he said he was positive that it was in [illegible] that Bristol Station was reached, [illegible] official reports and other testimony [illegible] fixing the hour before noon. [illegible] what the word "there" in [illegible] referred to, nor that Porter [illegible] to Pope that morning and had [illegible] the latter to hold and remain [illegible] said he knew nothing further [illegible] the remark as he had heard it, [illegible] want to know any more about [illegible].

[illegible] son of the late president, [illegible] witness. He lives in Chicago [illegible]. He had a conversation with [illegible] January, 1863, regarding the [illegible] courtmartial in this case and [illegible] father read a note from Porter [illegible] that in consequence of [illegible] the union forces he should [illegible] corps, and expressed himself [illegible] condemnation of Porter and said [illegible] taken in connection with the [illegible] would, in his opinion, have justified [illegible] of death.

[illegible] cross-examination Lincoln said [illegible] from his remarks that he believed [illegible] time Porter was guilty of the [illegible].

[illegible] to this testimony and stated [illegible] when the petitioner introduced Gov. [illegible] testimony as to his conversation [illegible] Lincoln a few days before his death, in [illegible] he said he believed Porter to be [illegible] and that he intended to order a re[illegible], that it was a conversation with reference to the application by Porter for a re[illegible] of the case. The testimony was, [illegible] admitted in connection with Gov. [illegible] evidence. It shows the change that [illegible] in the president's mind after two [illegible] had elapsed and he had time to inform [illegible] as to the case.

[illegible] witnesses were then called in succession by the judge advocate, all members of a Pennsylvania cavalry, but their testimony was not of any importance. [illegible] witnesses were called by Porter's counsel [illegible] seven more by the judge advocate, [illegible] nothing of importance was elicited [illegible], and at a late hour the board adjourned. Gen. Porter requested the reporters [illegible] that the package of letters returned [illegible] by Gen. Indian Rumors.

[illegible] Indian rumors are afloat, but [illegible] authentic.

[illegible] is one thing, says the Philadelphia [illegible], that all the oratory on finance fail to [illegible], because it has root in popular favor, [illegible] is the pernicious doctrine of legal [illegible]. Until it is determined for good that [illegible] has no authority to disturb the settle[illegible] of business by legal tender legislation, there will be no enduring basis for sound [illegible]. It is a doctrine full of menace to [illegible] that there is any power lying [illegible] the hand of authority to make [illegible] a promise in the fulfillment of a [illegible] deliver a fixed value.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

The Khyber Pass.

LONDON, Oct 14.—A dispatch from Simla says the latest rumor is that an immediate advance through the Khyber pass is probable. The rumor appears to rest on no particular authority. The Khyberes report Afghans in the pass suffering from fever. The viceroy's native emissary writes from Cabul, under date of the 6th inst, that he has received permission to leave and would bring the ameer's answer.

A Berlin dispatch states that as Tchataldga which the Russians continue to hold, does not belong to the line which the London cabinet considers necessary for the defense of Constantinople, the British fleet will not return to the neighborhood of the Bosphorus. It appears definitely settled that Dr Falk will remain in office as minister of ecclesiastical affairs.

His Sovereign Rights.

LONDON, Oct 14.—A Constantinople correspondent reports that the sultan wished to add to his note to Austria an intimation that any further advance of Austrian troops would be considered in contravention of international law and an infringement of his sovereign rights. He was only persuaded to omit this by Safvet Pasha offering to resign.

Treaty with Austria.

The chief difficulty to the conclusion of a treaty supplementary to that of San Stefano is that the Russians insist upon the insertion therein of article 26 of the treaty of San Stefano. At least two great powers support the porte's objection to this article, as it would interfere with certain stipulations of the treaty of Berlin concerning Eastern Roumelia.

SOUTH AMERICA.

A Crew in Distress.

PANAMA, Oct. 6—The passengers and crew of the wrecked Pacific Mail steamer Georgia are now here, and will sail for San Francisco in the Colima.

The Cerre de Pases Mine.

Late advices from Peru say the machinery for the mine at Cerre de Pases, which lately arrived at Callais from San Francisco, are being rapidly forwarded. A force of mechanics, engineers and laborers are on hand at the mines and will press the work forward to early completion. The tunnel, shaft, drifts, etc, to thoroughly open the mine are already well under way, and it is expected the bonanza which will rival the Comstock will shortly be reached.

Gold Discoveries in Chili.

Advices from Chili report that gold in paying quantities has been discovered in the southern part of the republic, and already a location has been made by English capitalists of Valparaiso. The gold exists in placers, which are said to be very extensive. There is abundant water to enable hydraulics to be employed in conducting the work of washing out the deposits, and extensive arrangements for canalization, building flumes, etc., to convey water to the mines, have already been commenced.

WEST INDIES.

The Santa Cruz Insurrection.

HAVANA, Oct. 14.—A French steamer from St. Thomas has arrived, bringing further particulars of the insurrection in Santa Cruz. It broke out in the west end of the island, where three fourths of the towns were burned and pillaged. The insurgents then traversed the island towards Bassen, but, fortunately, a timely arrival of forces from St. Thomas saved that part of the island. Sixty-seven sugar estates were burned, and only nine of value remain. The principal leaders of the insurrection are now undergoing trials. About 800 insurgents are still scattered about the country. Cause of the insurrection was short payments of wages and the refusal of the authorities to give passports to negroes. Santa Cruz was already declining rapidly, and this land is therefore totally ruined. Merchants of St. Thomas lost heavily.

Probably Lost.

Advices from Santo Domingo say there is no tidings of the American schooner Jordon L'Mott, carrying ex-President Gonzales and twenty-two of his followers, to Cusacio, and it is feared that they all perished in the severe hurricane which swept the south coast of Santo Domingo on the 3d of September.

The Pall Mall Budget in a recent issue states that the estimate of Mr. Caird is that Great Britain will require some 13,000,000 quarters of wheat from foreign countries in 1878 to supplement the deficiency in the home production. The paper thinks this will prove to be an underestimate. A quarter is equal to eight bushels, giving a total of 104,000,000 of bushels as the estimated deficiency. The Budget estimates that this will cost Great Britain $150,000,000, to be paid to America and Russia, both of which countries have shown a growing disinclination to take pay in exchange commodities.

"Loyal to McClellan."

[New York Special, Oct. 7.]

In the Porter case to-day, Mr. Ormsby, a correspondent of the New York Times, testified that he called upon Porter in 1862 to obtain a copy of a paper, and was accompanied by the stenographer of the court. He heard Gen. Porter say to the stenographer: "I was not loyal to Pope; I was loyal to McClellan."

A Brig on Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—The U. S. steamer Tuscarora is coming up the channel, having in tow the Hawaiian brig Violet on fire. The Tuscarora, coming up the coast from Mexico, discovered the Violet on fire yesterday afternoon off Half Moon bay. The sea was too heavy at the time to approach the brig, but the steamer laid by and piloted her into Half Moon bay, where her passengers and mails were put ashore. The Tuscarora then took her in tow for this port. The Violet has a cargo on board valued at about $2,500, including a lot of lime, gunpowder and other combustibles. She left this port ten days ago for Honolulu, and will probably have to be scuttled and the cargo will likely prove a total loss. The origin of the fire is not known.

The Big Suit in Another Form.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—In the 23d district court to-day the action commenced by John H. Burke against J. C. Flood, J. W. Mackey, J. G. Fair, the Pacific Mill and Mining Co. and the Consolidated Virginia Mining Co., to compel defendants, with the exception of the last named, to refund to the Consolidated Virginia Co. $20,016,000, paid to the Pacific Mill and Mining Co. by the Con. Va. company for the reduction of ores, and including the value of tailings retained by the former company, and the value of certain lots of land in Virginia City sold to the former company for a nominal sum and alleged to be worth $15,000. The complaint alleges that these transactions occurred during the time that Flood, O'Brien, Barron and Wallace were directors of both companies. The value of the tailings is alleged to be $20,000,000 and the cost of reduction $6,000,000. The Con. Va. Co. is made defendant in the action, because the company refused to bring the above suit, and it is desired by plaintiff to bring the company into court.

This makes a total of $53,693 01. It does not include the printing of all the recent reports, which would add lagely to the sum. All the printing done by Brown, if charged fairly and according to law, could have been done for $30,000. It has cost the state almost $60,000. In plain words there has been a swindle of fully $25,000. Did anybody make a remark about fraud?

THE STATE FAIR.

Eighteenth Annual Exhibition of the Oregon State Agricultural Society.

THE HORSES—A SLIGHT ACCOUNT OF SOME OF THEM—THE DAY'S TROTTING

SALEM, Oct. 15

The weather clerk was in better humor this morning and we will cease grumbling, for although the air is raw and the ground muddy, the improvement on the former days of the fair is so great as to make it almost seem pleasant.

Hoping to gather information which we have before sought for in vain, we strolled out to that part of the ground where the stables are, and found a large number of fine horses, the display in this line being very nearly as great in number and as good, if not better, in quality than last year.

W. C. Myer, of Jackson county, occupies the same stables held by him last year, and has them well filled with fine horses imported mostly from across the Atlantic though colts of the Percheron breed raised in Oregon show no deterioration. The king of this blood in Oregon, as is well known, is dead, having been poisoned by some miserable miscreants some months ago. Pride of Perche and Gen. Fleury, however, fill his place well, and by some the former is regarded as fully equal to the old horse. Mr Myer has also five Shetland ponies, four of which he drives to a buggy and attracts much attention. They are very diminutive in size, the heaviest of the five being five years old and weighs 410 pounds, the lightest is four months old and weighs 135 pounds. A part Percheron colt on the ground, about the same age, weighs 670 pounds. The 3 year old Shetlands weigh 305 pounds, while there are 3 year olds here which weigh 1,600 pounds. The same gentleman has some Arabian stock which attracts much interest, and Arabian Boy is one of the most beautiful animals in form and motion on the grounds.

Major [illegible] Clydesdale stallion, Centennial, exhibits all the desirable qualities of this large breed to quite as great an extent as any other horse on the ground.

S. G. Reed's stables contain Young Marquis, a magnificent stallion, Oregon Laddie, a 2 year old, and Scottish Lass and King William, two fine year lings of the Clydesdale breed.

Glerson & Pugh, of Marion county, have some fine specimens of horses in their stables, which, to our unskilled judgment, are as well adapted to the wants of this country as those of more noted strains. Among these are Rob Roy, 4 years old, the mare Jess and Merry Mason, all adapted to use as draft horses or roadsters.

Among the owners of superior displays of blooded horses, and we may say really fine specimens of equine excellence, Messrs. Redmond & Smith, of Yamhill county, take no second rank. Their stables embrace the fine seven-eighths Clydesdale stallion Ontario Champion and the half blood Belmont Jake, the stallion Rockwood by Fleetwood, dam by Alexander's famous Abdallah, Kisbar, a son of Rysdik's Hambletonian, and Young England, a powerful horse, a cross between the English draft and the Cleveland bay.

Wm. Pickering of McMinnville, has a fine young horse, a colt of Milton, another fine stallion sired by Royal George and owned by Redmond & Smith.

James Wilkinson has a beautiful jet black 3 year old Emigrant colt, Blackthorn by name and a very fine animal.

Wm. Townsend a fine mare, pedigree not given, with a magnificent colt by her side sired by Myers' White Prince, now dead. He also shows a yearling about as good as can be found anywhere out of the same mare and by the same sire.

John Downing, of Marion county a first rate Ben Roy, 5 years old, and a year old, by Ben Roy also.

R. B. Hayes, of Lane county, enters Dick Belshaw and Kosciusko as roadsters, and they are compact, neat and of good action.

J. E. Jones has a bay filly of fine form 2 years old entered as horse of all work. He also enters Pots, a mare 11 years old, as a draft horse.

S. G. Reed's Hambletonian Mambrino and Pedro are among the noted trotters present. He also exhibits the brood mare Prunella and a colt, a 2 year old, by Autocrat, and the five year old stallion Woodbine, sired by Fordem, dam by Mambrino Chief.

Sol. Nesmith has several fine horses, mares and colts from his farm at Lixie, on the ground, among which we notice a splendid brood mare and colt, Beecher, a 2 year old, by Black Stranger, and Brigham same age, by Winthrop Knox, two very fine colts. He also has a 2 year old filly, of fine form and size, and the well known thoroughbred stallion Black Stranger.

Frank Wilson has a colt by Nesmith's Black Stranger, which is pronounced by judges to be the best colt of that tribe on the ground.

W. H. Fletcher, McMinnville, shows a beautiful dapple grey stallion; John Downing, Marion county, a dark bay Messenger 5 year old stallion; J. G Hughes of Aumsville, Grey Dick a Messenger and Hembletonian stallion, Wm. Chalmers of Washington county, a noble colt by Autocrat. Wm Chalmers, Jr., has a broodmare with a suckling colt by Bruce's Centennial and a 2 year old filly out of the same mare by Young Marquis. The filly last named is of great size, but is of splendid form, and with good luck will make one of the most magnificent animals in the state.

W. W. West, Columbia county, has a dark bay John & Henry 3 year old, powerfully built, of good action, and weighing 1,400 pounds.

Thomas Townsend of Marion county, has a Percheron colt 2 years old, weight 1,170 pounds.—a good member of this large breed.

W. T. Newby of Yamhill, has a beautiful bright bay stallion of the John & Henry and Archie blood, 4 years old, weighing 1,680 pounds, and is 17½ hands high, a splendid specimen of the draft horse.

S. A. Riggs of Polk county, has a half blood Percheron, Young Prince, a good animal.

R. H. Osborne of Marion, has an imported Percheron 8 year old, which fully equals in size, for his age, any horse of the kind ever imported into the state.

THE TROTTING TO DAY

was a spirited contest in a 3 in 5 match, mile heats, by Parrott, Lady Faustina, and a California mare named Nellie Patchen. It became necessary to a decision to trot the 6th heat. As the race closes at the time the train leaves, and no accommodations for reporters are provided at the track, we can only give a summary.

Two year old race at noon to morrow.

Indications of fair weather this morning gladden the hearts of exhibitors, and an increased activity is noticeable throughout all departments of

THE PAVILION.

The most attractive addition that has been made to the art department is furnished by Mrs J DeVore Johnson, who exhibits nine paintings in water colors, of Oregon ferns, flowers and berries, in autumn tints. Miss Nellie Meacham displays a fine collection of autumn leaves in frames. The cut flowers, entered to compete for Vick's premium are placed at the central entrance of the horticultural department and make a fine showing. There are thus far two competitors for this premium, Father Dielman and Mrs. Florence Garrison. Both collections are exquisite. The floral department presents a most attractive appearance. Henry Miller, of Portland, occupies the entire center with his display of ferns, variegated plants and evergreens. Of these last he exhibits fifty varieties, and of the variegated about sixty, many of which, as the Coleus in six varieties, are extremely beautiful. Of the foliage plants, twenty varieties of the Begonia Rex natives of Brazil, are shown, all quite ornamental. In flowering plants this division is simply gorgeous, every inch of space being occupied by shrubs, each of which seems to outrival its neighbor in brilliancy. The superintendent has just informed us that two wagon loads of plants are still to come; and upon our query as to where they are to find room he glanced around, merely shaking his head in perplexity.

Division K has received many additions. Mrs. J Condit exhibits 25 specimens of fruit dried by hand and a fine assortment of canned fruits; Mrs. S. A. Chadit, two lots of Oregon made candles; Mrs. J. N. Taylor, sixteen kinds of jelly and eight of pickles; Mrs. DeLashmutt, three kinds of wine and four of pickles; Miss F. L. Campbell, thirteen kinds of jelly, Mrs. Louisa Forstner, specimens of currant, blackberry, apple, elderberry and cherry wine.

A large number of articles have to day been added to division L, many of them very elaborate. The most noticeable are curtains and bedspread in hand knitting, by Mrs. J. G. Mitchell and Mrs. William Underhill; pillow shams, embroidered, braided and ruffled, by Mrs. D. Strong, and a large assortment of ladies' underwear, on which an amount of tucking, ruffling, embroidery, tatting and crocheting is exhibited that is truly wonderful.

In Mechanics' Hall the display is greatly improved to day. Prentice & Co. have on exhibition a number of beautiful organs and an upright piano of exquisite tone. The furniture display is elegant. The walls are well lined with pictures in oil colors and crayon. A beautiful collection of steel engravings is shown by Mrs. Warriner. Of the oil paintings Miss Lillie Glenn of Port and exhibits three that display talent and care. J Hansen a collection, the subjects being Oregon scenery, wherein we can almost hear the dash of waters and the rustle of branches, Clyde Cooke, a painting of Mount Rainier as viewed from Tacoma, which bears traces of his youthful genius, and Addie L. Ballou, three specimens of portrait painting, that stamp her as an artist of no mean ability.

The display of flowers in wax, feathers hair and zephyr, has greatly increased, some really elegant samples in each being placed. What, with the exhibit and the music, this hall possesses many attractions, and has been thronged all day.

Among articles that we scarcely know where to place we note a sword case composed of 6,030 pieces of Oregon wood, inlaid in design quite artistic, the work of F. Babcock of Salem; a walking cane of bone, finely carved by N. B. Nation. A hive in which bees will be forced to make honey to order, by Wm. McWillis of Alsea Bay, an Australian cockatoo and magpie, exhibited by L. Myers, and two dozen pairs of canaries by Mrs L. S. Scott.

The Buena Vista steam pottery works show fine specimens in the line of jars, jugs and vases. Of this last, one pair in terra cotta is quite handsome. A. B. Clark, of Oregon City, shows samples of wood work, baskets, clothespins, etc., of home manufacture. The "big apples" are exhibited by H. W. Prettyman, who shows two of the Gloria Mundi variety that weigh two pounds each and measure sixteen inches in circumference. He also has that wonderful anomoly, the "pound pear," that is a two-pounder. One of the most amusing and attractive things we have noticed is the Camera Obscura, where, in a little building erected for the purpose, life on the fair grounds is painted in ever shifting panorama, the sun being the artist.

Competition in various lines of business is shown to-day for the first time. A number of exhibitors petitioned the board on yesterday to continue the fair through next week. After taking the matter under advisement it was decided that the rules of the society prohibits such extension, and that all they can do will be to continue the "police force" for a time, leaving it to the option of exhibitors to continue the display or withdraw their entries. As we close our record for the sixth day a heavy shower of rain and sleet is falling, but sundry patches of blue sky keep alive a forlorn hope in the breasts of the suddenly drenched individuals whom the forenoon sunshine had decoyed from home and tent.

Mrs. Dunniway has obtained the consent of the managers of the Y. M. C. A. to lecture on to morrow (Wednesday) afternoon at 2 o'clock P. M., in the building dedicated to "Gospel" meetings. She will take for her subject "Why should Women be Suffragists."

MISCELLANEOUS.

To a much improved attendance the Opera House Company presented "Baby" last night at Reed's opera house, Salem. It was produced well, but has to our notion little merit. Mr. Barrows makes out of "Coach" all that is possible and is the central figure. At times considerable fun is created, but there is so much childish talk in it that one becomes disgusted with the play on that account. Barrows, Billings and the rest of the leading members save it by their excellent theater acting. "Octoroon" to night, and Friday night a benefit to Mr. Fitzgerald when the "Romance of a Poor Young Man" is billed—a good play.

Ubiquitous Samuels of the West Shore is here and is working like a beaver.

Several persons have gained entrance through openings near the gate. A quietus has been put on the arrangement.

The booths were flooded on Monday morning—water a foot deep. Portlanders were reminded yesterday while in that locality of the flood in June, 1876.

Light fingered gentry have plied their work with great earnestness.

DECISION IN THE U. S. CIRCUIT COURT BY JUDGE DEADY.

U. S. Circuit Court—District of Oregon.

MONDAY, October 14, 1878.

Teresa E. Coulson v. Byron Z. Holmes, Alice J. Strowbridge and Mary A. Hueston—Suit in equity.

(1.) REVOCATION OF WILL. A conveyance of property previously devised works a revocation of such devise; and this, where the conveyance is to the devisee accompanied by a trust in favor of the devisor.

(2.) ALTERATION OF ESTATE. A will does not take effect upon an after acquired estate, and any alteration of the estate of the testator in the premises after the devise works a revocation of the will.

(3.) JUDGMENT OF PROBATE OF WILL. A court may determine that certain premises are not within the operation of a certain will without questioning the validity of such will or the legality of the judgment admitting it to probate.

DEADY, J.

This suit is brought to establish an alleged trust in certain real property situate in Portland, in favor of the complainant, Teresa E. Coulson, nee Holmes, and her two sisters, the defendants, Alice J. Strowbridge and Mary A. Hueston, who having refused to join in the suit as complainants are therefore made parties defendant; and for an account of the rents and profits as against the defendant Byron Z. Holmes; and also to procure an equal partition of the premises between the plaintiff and said defendants, by a sale thereof and a division of the proceeds.

The bill alleges that at and long before March 29, 1870, Thomas J. Holmes, the brother of the plaintiff and the defendants, was the owner of an undivided half of the premises in question, and the defendant, Byron Z., the owner of the other such half; that at the date aforesaid, said Thomas J. executed a conveyance of his interest in the property to the plaintiff for the expressed consideration of one dollar, but in fact without any consideration and in trust for himself; that at and before the date of such conveyance the said Thomas J. was threatened with an action for seduction, and being of weak mind and greatly under the influence of the plaintiff, he was induced by the latter to make the same so as to prevent his property from being taken to satisfy any judgment for damages which might be obtained against him in such action; that the plaintiff accepted said conveyance with a full knowledge and understanding of the purpose with which it was made, but afterwards and upon various pretences deferred the reconveyance of said property in pursuance of said trust with the hope of defrauding the lawful heirs of said Thomas J. of their just rights in the premises—the said plaintiff being well aware that said Thomas J. was not likely to live long; that said Thomas J. died on December 27, 1875, leaving as his only heirs at law the plaintiff and defendants; that since the date of said death there has been received and appropriated by the plaintiff from the rents and profits of said premises the sum of $600 per month; that said premises are of the value of $30,000, and consist of lot 2 in block 38 and the southwest quarter of block 16, together with a strip 80 feet long by 5½ feet wide off the west end of lots 3 and 4 of said block, upon which there are valuable buildings; that an equal partition of the same among the parties aforesaid cannot be made in kind without irreparable injury thereto; and, that since the death of the said Thomas J. the complainant has frequently demanded from the defendant, Byron Z., a conveyance of her interest in the premises and an account of the rents and profits thereof, but he has always refused and claims to own the same absolutely.

The defendants, Strowbridge and Hueston, do not answer. The answer of the defendant, Byron Z., admits the making of the conveyance as alleged but denies that it was made in trust, and denies all the allegations of the bill as to the causes which induced the execution of the same. Admits that since the death of Thomas J. he has received from the property as rents and profits about $12,000, and that the rents now amount to the sum of $550 per month.

By way of "a further and seperate answer" the defendant also alleges that Thomas J. on February 27, 1868, duly made and published his last will and testament whereby he bequeathed and devised to said defendant all his real and personal property of whatever nature and kind; that said Thomas J. died as aforesaid, leaving said will unrevoked; that the conveyance aforesaid was afterwards made by said Thomas J. to prevent the possibility of his intentions as expressed in said will from being defeated by the loss or destruction of the same or any improvident disposition which he might otherwise make of his property prior to his death, and not with any intention to revoke said will; and that the same was duly proven in the proper court about April 16, 1877.

The complainant excepts to so much of the answer as sets up the making and proof of the alleged will for impertinence upon the ground that the subsequent conveyance of the same premises operated so far, as a revocation of the will.

The law of Oregon (§ 790 civ. code) following the statute of Frauds of Charles II. § 6, ch. 3, provides that "a written will cannot be revoked or altered otherwise" than by another writing executed by the testator in the same manner, or else by burning, tearing, cancelling, obliterating or destroying the will, with the intent and purpose of revoking the same, by the testator or in his presence and by his direction.

But notwithstanding this statute it has always been held that a will may be revoked by implication or inference of law. (4 Kent, 521.) Among these implied revocations is any act of the testator which alters the estate or interest held by him in the lands devised at the date of the will; as for instance, a conveyance of the same or a valid contract to do so. The will takes effect only at the death of the testator. Real property acquired after making the will goes to the heir. If, therefore, the testator is not siezed at the time of his death of the same estate or interest in the premises that he was at the time of making the will, the same does not pass by the devise but goes to the heir. (Ballard v. Carter, 5 Peck., 144; Jettis v. Picard, 4 Or. 293.) This is held either upon the ground that the alteration of the estate is evidence of a change of purpose on the part of the testator, or more properly, that it works a revocation of the will by depriving the testator of the estate devised and thus leaves nothing for the will to operate upon at his death.

(Walton v. Walton, 7 John., Ch., 263; Minuse v. Cox, 5 Jd., 450; Herrington v. Budd, 5 Denio, 322; Bosley v. Bosley, 14 How. 395; Ballard v. Carter, 5 Pick, 116; Kean's Will, 9 Dana, 25; 4 Kent, 528; 2 Am. L. Cas, 668; 2 Green, Ev., § 686; 8 Bac. Ab., 500.)

The statute of this state upon the subject of wills (§ 9) has changed this rule so far, as to provide that "A bond, covenant or agreement * * to convey any property devised or bequeathed in any last will previously made, shall not be deemed a revocation of such previous devise or bequest," but that the same shall pass to the devisee, subject to said bond, covenant or agreement. A mere agreement, therefore, to convey no longer works a revocation of a previous devise of the same property, but a conveyance or other act which passes the title and produces an alteration in the estate of the devisor, is left by the statute to have the same effect upon a prior devise as before its passage.

The answer of the defendant Byron Z. admits the conveyance of the premises to himself subsequent to the making of the will; and if such conveyance was absolute as claimed by said defendant there could be no question but it operated to revoke the previous devise to him. In that case Byron Z. would hold under the deed and not the will, because before the will took effect—December 27, 1875—the testator had conveyed all his interest in the premises to the defendant, and there was then nothing left in the former upon which it could operate or take effect. In such case the devise would be adeemed or defeated.

Upon this view of the matter, any reference in the answer to this will, except so far as the personalty is concerned, is certainly impertinent. For as to the realty conveyed by the deed, the will is non-existent and of no effect. In Kean's Will, supra, Patrick Kean devised a tract of land to John Kean and afterwards executed a deed conveying him the same land. The court held that Kean took the land under the deed and not the will, and "consequently the will was inoperative and void"—that is, so far as the land conveyed was concerned. But the bill alleges that this conveyance was made in trust for the grantor therein, and unless it was so made the complainant has no equity. The effect of the conveyance upon this view of the transaction was to pass the legal estate that was in Thomas J. at the time of making the will out of him and into the defendant, Byron Z., but in trust for the use and benefit of Thomas J. It was said by Lord Mansfield in Doe v. Pott, 2 Doug. 722, that the doctrine of revocation by alteration of the estate had been carried to an absurd length in some of the English cases; and in Ballard v. Carter, supra, Parker J., in delivering the opinion of the court, said, that in assenting to the doctrine—"we would understand by any alteration of an estate, a material alteration; one which changes the nature and effects of the seizin of the testator;" and that the court was not inclined "by anticipation to adopt as law" such cases as where the alteration was for the express purpose of giving effect to a will, or where an estate was changed to a fee by a common recovery, the testator supposing; when he made his will that he had a fee, or when the testator, parting with his estate for an instant, took the same estate back again or conveyed the estate to another for his own use, but would consider them when they arose.

But in Walton v. Walton, supra, Chancellor Kent held that an agreement to sell, being in equity equivalent to a conveyance, was a revocation of a prior devise of the same property—and this, although such agreement was rescinded whereby the testator at his death held his estate in the lands free from the effect of the act which produced the revocation—substantially as though it had never taken place. And in Bosley v. Bosley, supra, Mr. Ch. Justice Taney states the rule with apparent approval which is deduced from the authorities in 4 Kent, 528, as follows:—"The same interest which the testator had when he made his will should continue to be the same interest, and remain unaltered to his death, and that the least alteration in that interest is a revocation." In this case the legal estate in the premises passed from the devisor to the devisee by the conveyance of March 29, 1870—according to the answer absolutely, but according to the Bill in trust for the grantor. In the one case, the whole estate having passed from the testator and none taken back, nothing is left on which the devise can operate, and it must fail, not so much on the ground of revocation as the want of a subject matter on which to operate. (2 Am. L. Cas., 671.) In the other case, the whole estate passed from the devisor also, but at the same time he took back another estate in the premises—a use to himself. And although this may be said to be substantially the same estate yet is technically different. There was an alteration of the estate, and that, according to all the authorities, works a revocation of the devise.

The application of this rule to cases where the conveyance is inoperative and passes no estate, or where by the same instrument or transaction the testator takes back a beneficial interest in the property doubtless had its origin in the very natural preference which the common law gave to the heir over the devisee—a stranger to the inheritance. In England since 1 Vic., ch. 26 § 23, and in many of the American states this rule has been modified by statute so that a conveyance shall not affect the operation of a prior devise upon any interest in the property which the testator had power to devise at his death. (1 Red. on Wills, 333.) Even under this rule an absolute and unqualified conveyance of the devise works a revocation of the will ex necessitate, but any disposition short of or other than this leaves the devise to stand subject to the conveyance. Under these statutes the legal estate in the premises in controversy would vest in the defendant, Byron Z., at the date of and by means of the deed, while the trust estate or use given to Thomas J. would also pass to the former under the will upon the death of the latter.

If the law were not so well settled otherwise by a long and uniform course of decisions, and if the Oregon statute changing the rule as to agreements to convey had not omitted conveyances therefrom and thereby indicated the intention of the legislature to leave them to have the same effect upon a prior devise as before, I should be inclined to hold that this was a case where the alteration of the estate, being technical rather than substantial, is not sufficient to revoke the prior devise but rather suggests an intention to anticipate or facilitate it by vesting the legal estate in the devisee at once and leaving the use to pass to him under the will upon the death of the testator.

But this point was not made in the argument for the defendant. Indeed the ground mainly relied upon for the defence was that "the question whether the will was revoked or not is a question of factum;" and that this question under the law of Oregon is in "the first instance exclusively for the probate court," and cannot be inquired into collaterally in any other; citing 1 Jarman, 106, 150, 220; 2 Green, Ev. § 630; California v. McGlynn, 20 Cal., 262, and other like authorities.

But as has been shown a will may be revoked by implication or operation of law as well as by the express act of the testator; and the question of revocation in this case is one of law and not of fact. The enquiry does not touch the validity of the will nor the legality of the judgment of the county court admitting it to probate. Therefore it is not necessary to consider whether by the laws of this state the judgment of such court is conclusive upon the validity of the will or not. In both Bosley v. Bosley and Ballard v. Carter, supra, it was held that the devise was revoked and that the property passed under the conveyance and not the will. But it does not appear to have been suggested that that was a collateral or any attack upon the judgment of the court admitting the will to probate. In fact, neither the will nor the judgment of the county court can be affected by the decree of the court in this suit. At most, the court will only determine that the premises in question are not within the purview or operation of the will—that the estate of the testator therein at the time of his death having been acquired in contemplation of law after the devise is not affected by it.

The exceptions are allowed.

John H. Reed and Sidney Dell for the complainant.

Eugene A. Cronin and John Waldo for the defendant.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, OCT 16 1878

ENGLISH PECULIARITIES.

What John Thomas Saw in London

London Correspondence New York Graphic] Flagstaffs are poked out of church steeples. Omnibus drivers are quite dandy, in dress wear gloves, and sometimes a flower in the coat buttonhole. Theatrical electioneering and business notices are posted on the church doors. Gravestones in old churchyards are laid flat on the ground, and gravevards are paved with epitaphs. Drug stores open on Sunday until six o'clock P M. A single woman after forty is called "Mrs." out of courtesy. No free lunch. Lodging offices or halls in the hotels. Every bar room is a "public house." Women and men are promiscuous patrons of bars. In dress women are cumbrous, sloppy, baggy about the skirts. Average female shoe clumsy and ill fitting. Such a change from the Parisian griset in prim, low collar, white slipper and bare neck. But the English soldier is far better than the French in build, carriage and general appearance. Fine uniforms and general appearance. Fine shops for selling cooked food, abundant, such as roasts of all kinds, corned beef and boiled vegetables. Fine corned beef too. For sixpence a square meal can be bought and carried home in a pan. Also eel and kidney pies for a penny. "Jellied Eel Pie Houses" all over London. A workingman may buy his steak or chop of the butcher's and have it cooked at the chophouse. The sign "no charge for cooking" is common in chophouse windows. A cup of tea is one penny coffee ditto. The tea is good, the coffee villainous. This is plain poor man's living. A penny will give a beggar a meal, viz, a bowl of soup and bread. Shops ornamented with heavy brass moldings painted on wood. In this damp climate they eternally scrub and polish to keep them bright. They are frequently movable and are taken within at night, otherwise they are stolen. Singular sight, enough, to see a shopman thus dismount the ornamentation of his shop doors and windows. There are miles on miles of small two-story cottages. In these live the working people. Six story tenements as in New York are unknown. The poorest street here is narrow and grimy, but the house has more comfort than that of Gotham. Tens of thousands in London have their bit of back yard and strip of garden. Baths, warm and cold, are abundant. Cold, one penny, warm, two pence. Best class, sixpence, including soap and towel. Excellent gin at forty cents per pint. The stuff sold in New York for "Old Tom" at $1 per bottle is all alcohol in comparison. One needs now to visit Europe to learn what good liquor means. Dirt is abundant on both men and women in East London. For poverty and rotten rags on men and women, London may stand A 1. Thames steam ferry boats, cheap, dingy and dirty. Funerals cheap. Can be buried for $20, with four hired mourners. Crape a yard in length dangling from their hats like a pirate's flag, red noses, black suits well shined at the seams. Don't know who you are, what you are, where you came from, or where you're going to. No matter. All mourn all the same, and after a funeral adjourn to the nearest public house and pray for another subject to mourn over. More gas in the streets at night than in New York. More life, stir, bustle and street shows, such as "Punch and Judys," bands of street negro minstrels, Irish ballad singers, Highland pipers, Italian ditto, German bands, pavement sketching artists with colored chalks, Bible readers, performing dogs, rats, mice and birds, acrobats and tumblers. Daily London papers rather slow. Editorials too long. Too many words saying little, and sometimes nothing. Leaders a column small. Will concentrate themselves on some great accident like the sinking of the Princess Alice on the Thames, but little notice taken of a hundred notable things daily occurring in London life. Police reports cumbrous. They always include what the magistrate said when he tells John Bowers, whose wife Mrs. John Bowers, has kicked, beat and bruised her black and blue, besides turning her into the street all night, to go home and try to live with John in peace. Many music halls. Different from year to year, but the same old single ladies very numerous on the streets at night. Also, drunken ones. Plenty of railway stations. Far ahead of Fine New York central. Omnibus travel in city expensive, average 4 cents every mile and a quarter. The people are clean in spots. Religious scrubbing one yard square of doorstep in front of poorer class of dwellings on Saturdays. Little attention paid to dirt on gowns or faces for weeks. Oysters are exposed for sale in vats of fresh water at half a dollar a doz. Small and coppery. Clams are unknown. On the street boiled winkles, which taste like well-salted gutta percha. Molasses called "treacle," and sold by the pound. Pies are unknown. An English pie is called a "tart." It is a dab of crust twice the size of a half a dollar, with another dab of jam inside. "Corn," in meaning, stands for any kind of grain. But corn proper is quite unknown. Green corn cannot be explained to the average English mind. Fine, tender stringbeans sold in market (September 14). A common shave costs a penny. Hair brushing, oil etceteras not included. Basin and towel for washing your own face penny extra, hair brushing, by machinery one penny ditto. Barber here does not recommend hair restoratives, but forcibly advertises anti-bedbug powder.

REV DR. CLARK writes

I have much pleasure in saying Fellows' Hypophosphites improved my general health amazingly. It gives a clear skin and healthy countenance, but to know its virtues it must be used and were it within the reach of all classes, I believe it would be used universal ly, yes, by the well to renew their age, and by the sick to make them well. It makes an old person ten years younger. 'This wit ness is true.' Would that I could more widely make it known for its virtues.
ALEXANDER CLARKE, D D, Amherst, N S

I heartily recommend Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites to all troubled with any difficulties or diseases of the lungs or nervous system, believing that, had I not used it I would not now be living.

The S. O. D. Grocery is now all the rage.

THE PLUMMER FRUIT DRIER.

How shall I make a fortune? Why if you are a farmer and have an orchard get hold of one of the

CELEBRATED PLUMMER FRUIT DRIERS

And your fortune is assured. Just think of it. In primitive New England days the frugal housewives and their thrifty daughters used to buy nearly all the family groceries by peeling apples by hand and drying them around the kitchen stove or in the sun. A very slow and tedious process to be sure but still it was done. But presto change. See what human ingenuity has devised! The Plummer Fruit Drier is to the fruit drying process what the sewing machine is to the household sewing, what the gang plow is to the ranch, what the spinning jenny is to the mill. It is the great labor saving machine the great money making invention to the fruit raiser.

WHAT IS THE PLUMMER FRUIT DRIER?

Briefly it is a large well contrived construction capable of holding some fifteen or more frames or trays together with so many square yards of galvanized wire cloth on which to spread the fruit. This frame may be set in the orchard, or any other accessible or convenient place and it can be operated by a couple of boys or girls and is guaranteed to dry from one and a half to two bushels of apples per hour. Just for a moment stop and compute the worth of such a machine in a household. We are not speaking now of its labor saving advantages. We refer strictly to its

CAPACITY FOR MONEY MAKING

It is a fact that over three hundred of these driers are now in successful operation in the state of Oregon and Washington territory. The parties using them are drying from $300 to $1,200 worth of fruit each year and using only the regular force of labor in the family at odd times or in stormy weather. Is not this a source of revenue worth looking after? Besides this the fruit dried by this process by these same people has been

AWARDED THE GOLD MEDAL FOR EXCELLENCE

By the Oregon State Agricultural Society. The flavor color and condition of the fruit is unsurpassed. It has been a crying sin and shame that so much delicious fruit has gone to waste. Heretofore there has not been facilities for getting it to market and it has been left to decay upon the ground. What a waste! Now it can all be made a source of revenue.

THE CHILDREN CAN BE SET TO WORK,

And thus two great ends may be conserved at the same time, namely the fruit can be made to yield a handsome income, while the children are learning the grand wholesome lesson of thrift, industry and economy. We repeat it. Every farmer who has fruit should by all means have one of these incomparable Fruit Driers. And it is to be remembered that there are

NONE SO GOOD IN ALL RESPECTS

As the Plummer. It has received the most flattering credentials from all parts of the country. It would take a solid column to enumerate the different well known names whose credentials stand for the Plummer Fruit Drier. We have omitted to state that there are different sized driers. The Factory Drier is much larger, and is capable of drying six bushels of fruit per hour. It requires four hands to work his machine. These machines are peculiarly adapted to the preserving of Potatoes by the "Plummer Process." They have already a world wide celebrity. Green Corn, Beans Tomatoes and in fact all sorts of vegetables and fruits can be successfully treated by this same process

FULL INSTRUCTIONS ARE GIVEN,

And those who visit the Fair should by all means examine these Driers for themselves. The most polite and courteous attention is paid to all, and the genial consideration given to all inquiries makes it a delight to ask questions. Everybody should make it a point to see the celebrated Plummer Fruit Drier. Every fruit raiser should study his own interest by purchasing one of them. The investment would prove as rich as the Bodie and far more permanent.—S F Bulletin

The flattering testimonials to the operating and work done by the Plummer Fruit Drier continue to pour in upon the inventor. No other machine compares with it in cheapness and the effective manner in which it works. The eighty cases of fruit recently sent to the great Paris Exposition, the telegraph announces was awarded the Paris Medal. This, together with the great Centennial Medal, that was awarded at Philadelphia in 1876 and the Gold Medals of the State of Oregon in 1876 and 1877, only shows the appreciation of this great invention by the public at large. For economy it has no equal. Oregon has such a number of these Driers in operation that she is enabled to export a staple article of dried fruit unsurpassed by any in the world, thereby creating a demand that is continually increasing in importance. The fine flavor which the fruits of this region contain, is all preserved by this process, making them equal to fresh fruit, destroying the toughness common to dried fruits and impervious to all insect life, making it perfectly safe for the merchant to invest at all seasons of the year without fear of having it destroyed by vermin. Fruit dried by the Plummer process may be kept for years and yet retain all its nutriment and nourishing qualities and will become a great source of revenue to any state where it may be introduced. Everything that is preserved by it is absolutely pure, as no chemicals are used in the curing of Fruits Fish Meats or Vegetables.

The Driers have all been manufactured up to this time in Oregon under the supervision of the inventor, and every machine properly set, and purchasers fully instructed in its operation and in the preparing and packing of fruits. I ask the fruit growers of Oregon to investigate this process, and although all other Fruit Driers have been partial failures financially, this one has proven itself a grand success in three hundred and fifty distinct trials. Do not let this year's crop pass without a full investigation of its merits, and then purchase before you lose another season so valuable to yourself and family. Address,
W S. PLUMMER, E. Portland, Ogn.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN,

His Wonderful Success
IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL
Chronic and Difficult Diseases,

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS

public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and stricken down by disease mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness. For it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases Catarrh Bronchitis and all diseases of the throat and chest by an entirely new system only known to himself. Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs including Spermatorrhea Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach bowels liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of and never fails to give relief at once and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands the delicate and refined organization as well as the proper remedies which should be used to alleviate their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patient's disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR PAUL M. BRENAN the Medical Lecturer and read his sign on his door.

THE FINANCIAL QUESTION

When President Hayes was at Madison Wisconsin recently he made a short address to his entertainers in which he gave them a brief financial exhibit He showed that since the close of the war a period of thirteen years, the public debt has been reduced one fourth and the interest on the debt has also been reduced by the annual sum of fifty six million dollars In 186[illegible] our paper currency amounted to $736 000 000 with a coin value of $510 000 000 the total amount is now $688 000 000 and its coin value nearly or quite the same The value of the paper dollar in 18[illegible] was sixty nine cents while its value at the present time is as stable as gold and is practically the same This happy result has been brought about by the rigid economy practiced by the nation and the steady application of the surplus revenue to the reduction of our public indebtedness

Having now through infinite toil and trouble arrived finally at a sound and stable currency it would be the part of wisdom to continue in the same course that has brought about this result, because upon this wisdom of our financial policy depends the soundness of our national credit and the same practical rules that regulate the income and outgo of a family applied upon a larger scale control the finances of a nation Indebtedness must be extinguished by the practice of industry and close economy, and in proportion as our ability and willingness to pay are made apparent, will the firmness of our securities in the market and the low rate of interest at which they will be taken And with a stable currency values become permanent which affords a basis for industrial operations, and commerce can be carried on without undue risk The president's commentary upon the financial showing he made is practical and statesmanlike Said he In all our measures for the improvement of our financial condition we should remember that our increasing trade with South America and with the Old World requires that our financial system should be based on principles whose soundness and wisdom are sanctioned by the universal experience and the general judgment of all mankind

Yet in the face of this safe and profitable experience we have men in our midst like Thurman, Ben Butler Peter Cooper and others, who are clamorous to launch out again into a crazy scheme of inflation and quit the realm of certainty for some Utopian ground which bewilders their mental vision They demand that the precious metals be demonetized the national banks closed up and an issue of irredeemable paper money amounting in face value to our whole national debt They want currency enough in circulation to fill the pockets of every now impecunious voter In former times absolute rulers, when hard pressed for money, have forced their subjects to take debased coin and history tells of the attempts to enforce the currency of such countries by harsh penalties In 1798 the issue of French assignats had risen to the incredible sum of ten billion dollars, and a franc had fallen to the one thousandth part of its nominal value Although based upon absolute property valued at three times the amount of its issue, its purchasing power grew less and less Yet the Butlers and Thurmans of that period harangued the revolutionary clubs and a cry went forth that the bloated aristocrats should be compelled, through the agency of the law, to take assignats at their nominal value ' To stiffen the value of the currency laws were passed, punishing with imprisonment, and eventually with death, any and all persons refusing to receive the assignats at their face value But Butler's plan surpasses this financial experience in extravagance He has the hardihood to conceive that government can impart commercial or exchangeable value to a piece of leather, or any other worthless material, upon which it stamps the words, " this is a dollar ' A plan like this may lead astray the dishonest and unthinking, but the great body of the American people are for a sound currency and the honest payment of the public debt and the more generally the fallacy and the insecurity of their kite flying schemes become understood the fewer supporters will they have at the polls. Communism carried into the credit and finances of a nation is fraught with danger to all This is going to be the question in our politics, at least till after the election of 1880

PROTEST AGAINST THE GREAT MONOPOLY

The New York Times says the overwhelming Republican triumph in Colorado was largely due to the resistance made by that party to the pretensions of the Union Pacific railroad as a power in the politics of the state The Democratic party was delivered over to this corporation, and Loveland, its candidate for governor, was a trusted friend and agent of Jay Gould When the Times adds that Colorado is not the only state into which the baneful influence of the Pacific railroads has entered, it says a thing of which we in Oregon also know the meaning This influence in the senate at the last session, where it controlled an Oregon senator with a number of others defeated the wishes and efforts of our state for railway aid and continued our great northwest in its thralldom to the most greedy and most powerful monopoly in the world The Times speaks to the point when it says that ' the possession of great privileges is not enough for these corporations they must consolidate them into a monopoly And they go on together exacting oppressive rates violating obligations as valid as their own charters and perverting their power to obtain political influence in a series of states Oregon has given this a check as well as Colorado This was the true significance of our election last June. Our people want an independent line of railway to connect them with the eastern states, and do not want any of the agents of the existing monopoly in representative positions to defeat this work or delay its consummation under thinly disguised pretensions of zeal for the public welfare All opposition to earnest and straightforward efforts to secure aid for a railroad to the northwest though made under pretense of contending for this or that special end is a device of the enemy to defeat the main object The [illegible] trous tactics of supple and skillful [illegible] who know how to direct the movements of their agents in and out of congress [illegible] prompts most effectively their main des[illegible]

A FINANCIAL MISTAKE

In Coe's Financial History of the War there is an interesting account of the origin of the greenback The writer holds that the greenback was not an absolute necessity of the times in which it was issued and the statements he presents go far to sustain his position He relates how Mr Chase in the first throes of the rebellion, finding a treasury left entirely empty by his predecessor applied for money to the associated banks of New York Boston and Philadelphia how they worked out a plan to furnish him a million and a quarter dollars in real money a day how they found that they would be able to do this for an indefinite period the gold returning naturally to their vaults within a week after the government paid it out how Mr Chase spoiled all their plans by issuing a demand note which he had no gold to redeem and which they had to redeem in order to sustain the credit of the government how these demand notes sapped the gold escrves and impaired their ability to furnish the government with money how Mr Chase continuing to issue these notes in spite of the remonstrances of the bankers they were forced to suspend specie payments and the government was forced to do likewise and how but for this most unwise act all the trouble we have had with our irredeemable paper money might have been avoided the war shortened its expense greatly reduced and the specie standard never have been departed from These statements are substantiated by a detailed history of the whole line of transactions If wholly correct they prove that the greenback was not a necessity but a mistake—a very excusable mistake undoubtedly in a patriotic administration overwhelmed with the sudden necessities of a great and unexpected war but still a mistake We should not dishonor either Mr Lincoln or Mr Chase in now admitting that the work they did so well might have been done still better It is a fact that the irredeemable paper money system which has done so much harm to our country was bad in its beginning bad in its inflation bad in its contraction and bad all through For sixteen years the greater portion of our people have had no honest money and the greenback standard of value has varied every day for that whole period Both in times of inflation and of contraction it has been an instrument of oppression and the lesson is that we shall take our stand upon the money which is the representative of value the world over and abide there

We cannot suppose there is any real occasion for the apprehensions felt by the insurance companies lest the bill requiring them to deposit bonds of narrow gauge railways instead of bonds of the United States will become a law and we say this because it seems impossible that the legislature could do so irrational a thing Insurance companies do not want to be compelled to carry any of these struggling railways and will refuse to put their money into bonds of so uncertain value To obtain the bonds for deposit they would be obliged to pay more than they were worth which would be gross injustice to the companies, and such bonds moreover would would not furnish the security which policy holders would value It is a most absurd scheme undertaken for the purpose of floating railway projects of uncertain character at the expense of underwriters, and of people who are prudent enough to insure their property It would be amazing indeed if the proposition should be seriously entertained in the legisalative assembly

The Standard says the legislature should investigate ' Yes It has been doing something in that line and it finds that ' Mr A Noltner the state printing expert, testified that he did not measure a page of the printing though he certified to its correctness under oath and charged the state for six days service in measuring the work He was the officer of the state supposed to stand between the state and the printer, and his conduct in certifying to the work without examination was most reprehensible and deserving the severest censure. And now since the Standard man ' as editor of a straight forward Democratic paper is determined to have the guilty ones exposed will he aid the exposure by printing the report of the committee which shows how he himself abetted one of the largest of the frauds practised upon the state?

The bill to provide for pilotage and towage on the Columbia river passed the house yesterday This is we believe the bill introduced by Thompson of Multnomah and recommended by board of trade of Portland It is a measure of highest importance to the commercial interests of the state If enacted and enforced it will relieve our commerce of many of the exactions and delays by which it has heretofore been hampered Those who have a good thing in the present system are opposing any change, of course But the legislature ought to heed the recommendations of those who are anxious to promote the interests of the state as against those who have private interests to serve We hope the senate will take up this bill and pass it If it cannot be reached in any other way let it be called up by a two thirds vote

There was paid to W L White chief clerk of the house at the last session the sum of $69[illegible] In these days when public retrenchment is so loudly demanded it would be well for our legislators to confine the compensation allowed clerks, pages &c within reasonable limits We regard six hundred and ninety six dollars for a session of forty days as extraordinary pay for any clerk chief or subordinate Seventeen dollars per diem is not warranted by custom or law Good clerks have officiated before at a per diem compensation of three to five dollars Perhaps if the compensation were adjusted on an equitable basis future legislatures might secure the services of an efficient clerk without being obliged to engage a [illegible] reading clerk

We give place to a letter from Wm H Watkinds in reply to a communication which criticised his financial management of the penitentiary d[illegible] superintend[illegible] We have often criticised Watkinds bookkeeping as eccentric and peculiar but do not [illegible] honest action in the management of the penitentiary will ever be [illegible] In fact we do not now think of any one else who has been connected with the [illegible] during the last eight years in whose integrity we should have half so much confidence

It is understood that the Southern Pacific railroad company intend at an early day to [illegible] along the [illegible] border eastward and [illegible] to some point on the Gulf of M[illegible] About 200 miles to Maricopa Wells [illegible] contracted for at once

The bill to create [illegible] passed yesterday It is thought that it will obtain the signature of the governor The bill increases the cost of the judiciary only one thousand dollars a year

OBSEQUIES.—All that was mortal of the late E. A. Cronin was consigned to the grave yesterday. As announced, the funeral took place from Masonic Hall at 9 o'clock, and was attended by the members of the Portland bar, who were present in a body. The remains were enclosed in a handsome rosewood casket, on which were strewn in profusion floral offerings. Before the casket was removed to the hearse many pressed around to take a final look at the familiar face of the departed attorney. Although disease and suffering had reduced the body to a condition of great emaciation, yet the features looked very natural. The settled expression was calm and pleasant, and the dead seemed as if he was only wrapped in tranquil slumber. Those who viewed him could scarcely realize that poor Cronin's sleep was an eternal one; that in all the long years to come that well known form and those familiar features would never be seen again in the walks of life. The funeral was conducted under the auspices of the Masons, according to the beautiful and impressive rites of which order, the body was consigned to its final resting place in the silent precincts of Lone Fir Cemetery. The following members of the Portland bar acted as pallbearers: Joseph Simon, Geo. H. Durham, Raleigh Stott, H. H. Northup, Fred. R. Strong, John Catlin, E. C. Bronaugh and J. H. Reed. Following the hearse was a long cortege.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. Thos. Savage, a teamster from Puget sound, left Olympia in perfect health on Monday morning, bound for Salem for the purpose of attending the State Fair. Soon after getting on the Kalama boat he ate dinner, and shortly afterward became sick. No medicines of any kind were to be had on the boat, and no relief could be given him. The boat arrived here, four hours after he was attacked. He was taken to St. Vincent's hospital, and Dr. Jones was summoned. It was too late, however, and the unfortunate man died during the night. Mr. Savage was about 33 years of age, was temperate in his habits, and was respected by a large circle of acquaintances on the Sound. During the fair of last week at Olympia he was greatly exposed, and his death is due entirely to that cause. We are requested to say that a careless statement, that his death was the result of recent intemperance, is untrue. Mr. E. McCreary and E. J. Kilnappe came over from Olympia yesterday, and to-day will take the remains of their friend to that city for interment.

BADLY INJURED.—Monday afternoon a man named Harris employed at the ice works in this city met with a very severe accident. He was attempting, unassisted, to manipulate a heavy iron retort that rested upon an incline several feet from the ground. The task was too much for his strength, and losing his hold the unwieldy instrument slid down the incline, and one of the long, sharp horns with which it was ornamented, tore its way through Harris' flesh from the thigh to the ankle, inflicted a deep, jagged wound a couple of inches deep and over two feet in length. The agony he endured obliged him to retreat still further, when the monstrous weight fell upon his foot and crushed to a jelly the bones of the [illegible].

A. O. U. W.—E. G. Oliver, D. S. M. W., installed Willamette Lodge No. 5, A. O. U. W., yesterday, on the 12th inst., with the following officers elected and installed: A. S. Rogers, P. M. W.; Fred. Graf, M. W.; George W. [illegible], G. F.; G. H. Monroe, O.; L. C. Moore, [illegible]; [illegible] Roop, Recorder; W. B. Rice, F.; [illegible] Clark, Receiver; J. J. Hart, I. W.; [illegible]

[illegible] REQUIRED.—On motion of the defendants—Capt. Edward Richards, master of the British bark Cynosure, and Walter Jones, mate of that vessel—the trial will take place this morning in U. S. district court without the intervention of a jury. Both defendants are under bonds on a charge of [illegible].

[illegible].—The steamer Ancon, which was advertised to sail hence this morning, has been postponed until Friday at 5 o'clock. The Great Republic will sail for San Francisco Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. [illegible] will sail hence Sunday morning.

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT.—A little child, [illegible] months, of Mr. James Johnson, in the northern part of the city, fell [illegible] of an open fireplace yesterday and was burned severely about the [illegible] one of its arms.

[illegible] EN ROUTE.—The sheriff of Ba[illegible] county arrived in this city last evening, having in custody a prisoner who is under sentence to serve out a term of confinement in the penitentiary. Officer and prisoner left for Salem this morning.

BOARD OF TRADE.—This (Wednesday) evening there will be a meeting of the board of trade at the rooms at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of considering various matters of importance. A full attendance is desired.

RESERVED SEATS.—Reserved seats for the entertainment for the benefit of Mrs. D. F. Smith, to be given at Turn Halle on Friday evening next, can be obtained at Morse's Palace of Art without extra charge.

COURT ADJOURNED.—The United States district court adjourned yesterday morning until this morning, on motion of W. W. Page in behalf of the bar, in respect to the memory of the late E. A. Cronin.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

[illegible] Kilbourn will hold a regular sale to-day.

Messrs. Olds & King have just opened an immense stock of dry goods, furnishing goods, notions, etc. Quick sales and small profits is the motto.

Read the advertisement of Messrs. Shindler & Chadbourne. They have a magnificent display at their place of business, First street between Morrison & Yamhill. Give them an early call.

Messrs. Lewis & Strauss, of the "White House," have just received a large number of fine cloaks of the most fashionable and elegant styles, which they will sell at reasonable rates. They have also received a fine stock of fall and winter goods for their millinery department, and offer bargains in that line.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Thompson DeHart & Co. Recently this firm has enlarged its place of business and now occupies a building 50 by 200 feet—two stories and a basement. Their business extends through from Front to First street on Yamhill. They have a very large stock of everything in their line, and are receiving invoices each steamer. Thompson, DeHart & Co. are enterprising gentlemen and are receiving a very large share of public patronage. The particular attention of the public is called to the announcement of this firm.

HORSE MARKET.—The auction sales of live stock, carriages, wagons, etc., held every Wednesday and Saturday afternoon at the corner stables on the corner of Second and Washington streets are becoming quite an institution and afford buyers and sellers an opportunity to meet on neutral grounds, which they seem to appreciate. Messrs. Creighton & Stearns, the popular auctioneers are always at their post, ready and willing to give information to those who seek it.

In pursuance of the order the flags of the navy yards and stations and of all ships of war in commission will be kept at half mast from sunrise until sunset, and 13 minute guns be fired at noon from all navy yards.

The brick work for the row of buildings on Second and Oak streets, by Messrs. Sherlock & Bacon, is rapidly approaching completion.

J. E. Smith, who has the contract for building the large wharf at the foot of Washington street, is crowding the work forward as rapidly as possible. This will be one of the largest and most substantial wharf improvements in Portland. The flooring is nearly all down, and in a few days more will be all laid. The wharf is 94 feet wide, and 150 long. A warehouse—one story high—is to be constructed 100x72 feet. In about three weeks and the entire improvement will be finished.

W. S. Ladd contemplates the erection next season of a large brick building at the corner of Morrison and Front streets. The season has so far advanced that it will not be possible to more than complete the foundation before next spring. The building will be 125x85 feet, two stories high, and will probably be used as store rooms. Messrs. McCullough & Martin, the well-known stone masons, have the contract for building the foundation. They will commence work at once.

Messrs. Coulter & Church propose to construct a large brick building at the corner of Front and Morrison streets next season. Several years ago a stone foundation was built there, but the work never progressed any further. A stone wall will be built running north and south parallel with the river, 10 feet further east than the old foundation, in order to make the building larger. The new structure will be 125x85 feet, and we understand will be used as a hotel. The foundation will be all completed so that brick work can be commenced early next spring. Messrs. McCullough & Martin also have the contract for the foundation.

MRS. F. A. LOGAN, whose healing powers have been blessed with unparalleled success (during her tour as a lecturer through several states and territories in the Union for the past twelve years) has yielded to the solicitations of friends to open an office under the town clock, in Odd Fellows' building, for a season, for the benefit of the afflicted of whatever malady.

TESTIMONIAL.

I had what my physician called "low typhoid fever;" was suffering intensely when Mrs. Logan gave me treatment; in one hour's time placed me on my feet; sat up three hours, and the next day nearly made a calico dress, and since that time (two weeks) have washed sixteen dozen pieces besides doing my own housework. I could but cry for joy, as my little ones needed a mother's care.

I consider Mrs. Logan a healer of superior power and merit. MRS. JENNIE WADSWORTH, SEATTLE, W. T., Aug. 8, 1878.

ABALONE SHELLS.—About eighteen months ago Mr. R. W. Jackson introduced for the first time in Portland a great variety of Abalone Shells, which were made up in various forms. They attracted great attention and large lots were sold. Mr. J. returned recently and has just completed the arrangement of his stock of beautiful shells in the pavilion in the State Fair. The exhibit comprises many unique designs, including clocks, glove boxes, sets looking glasses, charms, etc. They are really brilliant. The shells come from the southern coast of California, and exist in large quantities. Mr. Jackson gives a personal explanation of the goods, their origin, etc.

REDUCTION OF PRICES.—From and after this we shall reduce the prices of our first quality crockery and glassware, plated ware, and all goods in our line, at wholesale and retail. Parties about commencing housekeeping, or wishing to replenish goods in that line, will call and examine our stock and prices.

DEAR JOE: I received your letter a few days since, and, if I did not know you too well, should certainly conclude that you had gone daft. You complain that your food distresses you, that your tongue is coated, you have a headache and a disposition to shiver as if from cold, and that you are miserable generally. Now, just get a package of Frese's Hamburg Tea, and use it as directed, and my word for it, in a week's time you will feel like a new man and thank me for this advice. Yours. TOM.

INDIANS INSOLENT.

An Attempted Outrage—Indians in the Kittitas Country Preparing for War.

A gentleman from the Kittitas country reports that serious trouble is anticipated with the Indians, who are daily becoming more insolent and demonstrative. Recently a buck belonging to Moses' gang attempted an outrage on a white woman; but her screams brought several men, who were at work within hearing distance, to the rescue, and the Indian fled. Just previous to his (our informant's) departure the Indian was discovered in the same vicinity and arrested by a band of citizens. He again proved to be a desperate villain, and at first resolved upon "standing off" the entire party. The settlers concluding that here was their opportunity, of meting out to the wretch the punishment which he so justly deserved, resolved upon sending him off to the happy hunting grounds on short notice. So they made a grand charge on him with the butts of their rifles, and one settler dealt so heavy a blow as to break off the stock of his gun. However, the Indian dodged about and finally got away under cover of the darkness, which was now coming on, without sustaining any other injuries—it has since been ascertained from his comrades on the reservation—than a broken jaw and several severe bruises about the head. The Indians are all greatly incensed over this procedure and declare they will have revenge. The Indians are preparing, it is generally believed, for an attack upon the white settlers just as soon as opportunity shall present itself. The ugly breach between them and the settlers is being widened every day, our informant states, and both parties are arming themselves for an outbreak. Numerous complaints are made against Seattle and other merchants on the Sound, whom the settlers claim are supplying the Indians with all the arms and ammunition they want. Recently our informant states, an Indian returned via the Snoqualmie pass from this section with three kegs of powder on one pack animal. The restless feeling engendered this among the settlers by these well grounded apprehensions of Indian troubles, coupled with the general excitement manifested over the outrageous project of establishing an "Indian Botany Bay" in the very heart of their country, for the accomodation of the savage hordes of the Columbia, has well nigh driven them to desperation. They are for the most part, beginning to feel just as if they would sooner fight than not, and are making no effort to conciliate the redman.

INSURANCE COMPANIES AND WILDCAT BONDS.

The following letter has been received by Messrs. Corbitt & Macleay, agents of the Imperial, London, Northern and Queen insurance companies:

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9, 1878.

A meeting was held to-day by the various insurance offices interested in Oregon business, to consult as to the best steps to be taken to prevent any legislation adverse to their interests.

A copy of a bill was presented which has been introduced into the house, providing for the $50,000 deposit from each company being hereafter made in first mortgage bonds of Oregon railroads; and while it was not considered that such a bill could ever be passed by an intelligent body of men, yet it was deemed advisable that the agents should be in possession of our ultimatum regarding the same, which is that, in the event of its passage, all shall withdraw and discontinue business in the state. In justification of this resolution we presume it is unnecessary to say anything further than that the companies could not be expected to take stock in any such speculative securities; and, besides, it is doubtful if any insurance commissioner would recognize them as valid assets.

As the matter now stands we have but to leave it to you and to the others interested to use such influence as you may possess to prevent this or any similar bill from becoming law. ROBT. DICKSON, Manager.

The Dollar.

[From the Toledo Blade.]

In 1864 the greenback dollar would buy two yards of calico. Now it will buy sixteen. In 1864 the workingman's $1 50 for a day's work would buy three yards of calico for his wife. Now his $1 a day will buy her sixteen.

One year the Democratic party in Massachusetts has Charles Francis Adams and the next Beast Butler. Like the party everywhere, it has a stomach for anything.

In 1864 it took the laborer, working at $1 50 a day, 22½ days to earn enough to buy a barrel of pork. Now, if he only gets $1 a day, he can buy a barrel in eight or nine days.

In 1864 the price of a day's labor ($1 50) was equal to that of three yards of brown muslin. Now the price of a day's labor ($1) is equal to that of twelve and half yards of brown muslin.

In 1864 a day's labor at $1 50 would buy one gallon of molasses. Now a day's work at $1 will buy two and a half gallons Distinction Without Difference.

[From Helena (Mon.) Herald.]

"I'm a tough cuss from Bitter Creek," is the expression employed by the Plains desperado to inform everybody that he is "on the fight." Further east the corresponding member of society says, "I'm a wolf and this is my time to howl." In Kentucky he says, "I'm a yard wide, and all wool."

An Undeniable Truth.

You deserve to suffer, and if you lead a miserable, unsatisfactory life in this beautiful world, it is entirely your own fault, and there is only one excuse for you—your unreasonable prejudice and skepticism, which has killed thousands. Personal knowledge and common sense reasoning will soon show you that Green's August Flower will cure you of Liver Complaint, or Dyspepsia, with all its miserable effects, such as sick headache, palpitation of the heart, sour stomach, habitual costiveness, dizziness of head, nervous prostration, low spirits, etc. Its sales now reach every town on the Western Continent, and not a Druggist but will tell you of its wonderful cures. You can buy a sample bottle for ten cents. Three doses will relieve you.

Rock a bye baby in the tree top
When the wind blows the cradle will rock
When the bough breaks the cradle will fall
Down tumbles baby and cradle and all

Rock a bye, baby, the meadows in bloom

Echo the birds with your baby tune
Coo at the sunshine and flowers of June

Over the cradle the mother love sings
Brooding or cooing at even or da[illegible]
What will it do when the mother is gone?

Rock a bye baby cloudless the skies

Sweet is the lullaby over your nest
That tenderly sings little baby to rest

Rock a bye baby the blue eyes will dream
Sweetest when mamma's eyes over them beam
Never again will the world seem so fair—
Sleep little baby—there are clouds in the air

Rock a bye baby the blue eyes will burn
And ache with that your manhood will learn
Swiftly the years come with sorrow and care
With burdens the wee dimpled shoulders must bear

Rock a bye baby there's coming a day
Whose sorrows a mother's lips can't kiss away
Days when its song shall be changed to a moan
Crosses that baby must bear all alone

Rock a bye baby the meadows in bloom
May never the frost pall the beauty in bloom
Be thy world ever bright as to day it is seen
Rock a bye baby thy cradle is green

Washington Post Some of our western exchanges complain that Judge Davis is still silent on the financial question They evidently don't stop to reflect that it takes a man of 600 pounds weight some time to make up his mind Aleck Stephens probably wouldn't keep them waiting a minute

From 1863 to 1868 there was a rapid contraction of the currency These were five years of great business prosperity From 1868 to 1873 was a season of inflation During these five years was the period of rapid shrinkage and final collapse Those who are fond of drawing inferences will please draw

The Atlanta (Ga) Constitution says It is hinted that the Republicans will nominate Andrew Sloan for congress in the first district In this event if Corker, (Greenback candidate) has any strength at all there will be trouble in the district It is the duty of Democrats at this juncture to present a solid front

Agricultural Fair "Excrescences"

A GROWL AT POLITICIANS' ORATIONS AND THE "HOSS TROT"

The Providence, R I Journal, while strongly urging the benefits which will follow farmers festivals when properly conducted, points out two excrescences which have fastened upon them Its comments are well worth the consideration of those who have the management of these exhibitions

There are two excrescences which from false ideas of their attractiveness have been fastened or have grown on to the agricultural fair One is the address Not the address by a man of experience in farming, or solid mental power which he can appropriately adapt to and render serviceable on such an occasion, but the address of somebody famous as a preacher, a politician or as having performed some act, good bad, or simply conspicuous, which it is supposed will create a desire in the people to see him It is not the address but the person that is wanted, and wanted as a show Or, again, some stranger who wishes for notoriety for social or political purposes, makes friends with the managers and displays himself at the expense of good taste, common sense, and the fitness of things.

The other is the agricultural horse trot which too often degenerates into mere racing gambling and rowdyism There are agricultural societies where, year by year, the staid members are forced, after an ineffectual protest, to see the fair made mainly an affair of trotting, cheating drinking and a vicious idleness, where the premium for the best butter is $2, and that for a trotting horse, of no earthly use on the farm or road, is $100 where no sort of encouragement is offered to the farmer to bring his blooded cows or his working oxen but where the great bulk of the income goes to pay strangers for races in which they agreed to "pool their issues and cheat the whole body of outsiders Our best farmers and the ablest and most considerate of our agricultural papers have fought this tendency, and are fighting it yet, but it will not be cured where it has taken hold firmly until people stay away from such fairs which indeed, they are doing to such a degree and of such kind that the evil will be cured everywhere, save in those places where the appeal for support is openly based upon the lowest plane and addressed to the lowest minds

Thurman's Political Philosophy.

[From the Cleveland Herald]

When Mr. Thurman read of the performance in Marquette, where Tilden's lawyers stole the books of his mining company to keep the truth about the income tax business from getting out, he suppressed his emotions by taking a pinch of snuff and after an unusually loud snort in his red bandanna, remarked that he did not think there would be as many candidates for the Democratic nomination in 1880 as people had heretofore supposed

The Turnip in a New Role.

[From the Country Gentleman.]

In baking buckwheat and other griddle cakes, a piece as a 'greaser' is by many thought to be almost indispensable. Those who are of this opinion will, on trial soon learn that a turnip divided in two answers the same or a better purpose as the odor—the most unpleasant part of cake baking—comes from the greaser in contact with the hot iron, whereas with the turnip very little of this is perceptible.

Mosby's Second Haul of Greenbacks.

[Washington Correspondence of Baltimore Sun]

Col Mosby, of Virginia, recently appointed consul at Hongkong, China, drew his first quarter's salary a day or two ago He remarked to the paying teller "This is the second time I have drawn on the United States for money, the first time was when I pulled a couple of army paymasters during the war"

Cotton is indeed king in western Texas this year The fields are snow white and the yield will be wonderfully great. One estimate is that the crop will not fall short of 600 000 bales in the state, and will bring in $.6,000,000

BEAUTY: OR, THE Secret of a Fair Face.

An Item of Interest to Every Lady who Desires to be More Beautiful than she now is.

Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred, subjected to the whims of an American climate, possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty—a pure and clear complexion. What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish. It can be done; it is done daily. Prof. W. E. Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unblessed daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty, and called

MAGNOLIA BALM

The MAGNOLIA BALM is a sure device for creating a pure and blooming complexion. It conceals all natural blemishes in the most surprising and effective manner. It removes all roughness, eruptions, redness, blotches, freckles, and tan with magical power. It drives away all evidence of fatigue and excitement. It makes the plainest face beautiful. It gives the complexion a dazzling purity and makes the neck, face, and arms appear graceful, rotund and plump. It makes a matron of 25 or 40 look not more than 20 years old, and changes the rustic maiden into a cultivated city belle. The Magnolia Balm removes all blemish and conceals every drawback to beauty, and, while it is as harmless as water, it is so life-like in its effect that the closest observer cannot detect its use. Ladies who want to make themselves attractive can make an absolute certainty of it by using HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM, and we know of no other way. It is the cheapest preparation in the world, all things considered, and may be had at any drug store.

WEDNESDAY MORNING OCT 16 1878

REPLY FROM WM H WATKINDS

PORTLAND Oct 15 1878

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In your paper of this date appears a communication signed Typhoon. The writer of the communication starts out by insinuating that I have been trying to conceal and discourage investigation of the penitentiary management. On the contrary, by referring to my reports since 1870 it will be seen that I have always asked for an investigation and I was the only state officer that had a committee to investigate his books and accounts at each session of the legislature since 1870. As yet no committee has ever reported that I wronged the state out of a dollar or misappropriated one. "Typhoon" refers to figures in my reports of 1872 1874 1876 for the information of the taxpayers, to whom I shall always hold myself responsible for their money that I disbursed while I was their public servant. During the six years I turned over to the penitentiary building commissioners and state capitol building commissioners brick money convict labor etc to the amount of $82 2.6 87 and took their receipt for the amount in accordance with the law passed by the legislature of 1872. Besides this amount I turned over to the state treasurer $21 110, making a total of $103 346 82 to say nothing of the vast improvements of a permanent character on the prison grounds which I can point to with pride. The following is a copy of section six of the law

An act to provide for the construction of a state capitol building

Section 6 The commissioners elected or appointed under this act shall have authority to make requisition upon the superintendent of the state penitentiary for all materials manufactured by convict labor that can be made available in the construction of said building, together with such convict labor as can be furnished with due regard to safety and present rules and regulations and the superintendent of the state penitentiary is hereby directed and required to honor such requisition reserving such materials as are now manufactured, and on hands subject to the order of said commissioners and when the same are delivered, to take their receipt therefor

A similar law was enacted in 1861 for the building of a state penitentiary. The legislature of 1870 appropriated money for the building of a penitentiary under the act of 1864. Requisitions were served upon me for all materials manufactured by convicts. I sold brick and other material for money and turned it over to the commissioners took their receipt for the same as the law directs, and made a full report of each transaction to every session of the legislature as may be seen by referring to my report. The item of $2 120 50, labor to M L Savage in the communication of "Typhoon" was to pay a debt contracted by my predecessor, Major M P Berry. Not one dollar was ever received by me for said labor. The item of $15 000 (notes, interest, etc) was turned over by Major Berry to me and the amount of money that was paid on the notes while in my possession was turned over to the proper officer and I hold his receipt for the same. The balance of the notes and accounts amounting to between $8 000 and $9 000 interest included were turned over to my successor, B F Burch, and I hold his receipt for the same. My report for the last six months that I remained at the prison would have shown this fact but for some reason best known to himself Mr Chadwick has destroyed that report, and it is not on file in the secretary's office and has not been printed. The amount of money I drew out of the treasury was simply my salary and no more. As for investigations, let me assure my friend "Typhoon" that I am as anxious to see a thorough investigation as he is of every state office during the last eight years. For myself, I have no fears of the result. As "Typhoon referred me to the oath which I took when entering upon the duties of superintendent of the penitentiary let me refer him to the commandment which reads "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor"

In conclusion permit me to say that I am proud to know that we have an independent journal in our state, ready to expose fraud and corruption, let it fall where it may, and equally willing to defend the innocent. I never felt it my duty before to reply to an anonymous scribbler, as I have always regarded such as worse than the assassin who would stab you in the back in the dark. One bids defiance to the law, the other tries to rob you of a good name, dearer to you than jewels, and secretes himself behind the name "Typhoon."

W H WATKINDS.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Over one-third of the assessed valuation of Washington territory is east of the Cascade mountains. Walla Walla county pays over one seventh of the total tax of the territory

Seven thousand tons of wheat were hauled over the Walla Walla and Columbia river railroad during the month of September. The procession of teams hauling loads of wheat to the depot does not "let up"

From P G Eastwick, an accomplished civil engineer, it is learned that upon making a thorough examination of Clearwater river he found that by removing a few obstructions it could be made navigable for 75 miles above its mouth, except during extreme low water, when only about 60 miles of it would be navigable.

Whitman county Republican ticket. Jas A Perkins, representative, J P Quarles, M McManamon, Nelson Davis, commissioners. Richard Truax, sheriff, L T Bragg auditor. S D. Woodward, probate judge. E Duff assessor. Jos Davenport, treasurer. Rev C Eells, school superintendent. O L Wolford surveyor, Dr. Bunnell, coroner.

The county superintendent of schools reports there are at present 38 school districts in Whitman county, with probably 30 in running order. Twenty-two schools have been taught during the year up to the present time. During 1877, 880 scholars, between the ages of 4 and 21 years were reported, while the clerk's report of last August gave 1 207 scholars between the ages of 4 and 21 years, and 316 under 4 years of age, school districts Nos 2 8, 11, 15, 25, 26 and 33 making no reports at all. The amount of school money apportioned to districts entitled as follows January, $1 342 57 June, $1 530 83 August, $552 28, average teachers wages, $100 per three months term

Lower Level Love.

[Cleveland Herald, Colorado Letter]

Both are very rich, and have spent many seasons at Saratoga, names, Willie and Minnie. The mother says they have been engaged to each other since childhood, that both have been reared with care and tenderness, and though she does say it, both are "well born," and that the wedding ceremony will soon take place. They live in the city of Boston. The following conversation took place between them in my hearing

Minnie—I don't like mountains, they are so—so big and dirty. Do you Willie, dear?

Willie—No, indeed, Minnie, I don't. Great, awkward, uncouth things, and are so—so much in the way, too. But when I left Boston, Uncle Charles told me I must take you up on top of Pike's Peak.

Minnie—Oh, Willie, do you think I would ride up there on a vulgar mule—the ideah is so absurd—no, never, never. Willie, I shall faint!

Willie—Oh, dear Minnie, don't faint, I will stay down here in this sweet valley with you until the others return.

The London Times gravely announces, in its editorial columns, that "the Republicans in Maine elected three Democratic greenbackers [illegible]"

Among the Paris Book Stalls.

[From the London Saturday Review]

It would be rather hard just at this moment for a Paris book hunter to hit on a new and unfashionable class of work which may afterward come to be sought for by the Rothschilds and the dukes who are the chief patrons of bibliomania. Here black letter editions of course have long been precious. Early copies of the poet of the Renaissance have for 40 years been out of the reach of ordinary men. The Romantic poets whose meagre and quaintly illustrated books had no sale when they appeared have long been precious. Most of the rubbish they hid ous and permanent [illegible] circulating library. Fashion has patronized for about 10 years the engravings of the little masters of the vignette the graceful and ingenious artists of the eighteenth century. The works of Moreau, Eisen and Gravelot which were long neglected have their price again. The very scraps of the literature of Louis XIV—pamphlets books and so on—are comparatively rare. They are sought because any one of them may contain a grain of literary history. Classics of course are comparatively a drug in the market now though they were so much desired 80 years ago. Perhaps a book hunter with an eye to the far off future, might do worse than amass a really good classical collection. Surely the 3 shilling yellow novels of the day can never become rare and precious. Even this is not impossible for already a clever but dirty young poet's first volume has become a thing of price and you cannot get the verses of Glatigny. Meantime the book hunter is pretty well contented having the quais to himself and daily braving sun and smoke. His taste is the taste des belles lettres which consoles him for many a disappointment

New York Newspaper Expenses.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial]

A correspondent in the Philadelphia Times has been giving some interesting statistics about the Tribune and says among other things that its composition bills were reduced $35 000 in one year or over $600 a week. He might have added that economy practiced in other departments of the same paper had reduced its running expenses from July 1877 to July 1878 just $1,250 per week compared with expenses of the previous year. My informant, who is curious in such matters says that inquiry made preparatory to this reduction shows what it costs to run the city departments of the various leading papers and the average amount of local news they publish. The figures are as follows Herald, city editor Meighan twelve columns per day $1 500 per week, Sun, city editor Bogart nine columns per day $1 200 per week. Times city editor, Pullham nine columns per day $900 per week. Tribune city editor Shanks ten columns per day $700 per week. World city editor Ralph eight columns per day, $700 per week

Pacific Railroad Reports.

[Washington Special Oct 5]

Reports required by the law enacted by congress at its last session were furnished today to the auditing bureau of the interior department by the Union Pacific railroad. Nearly all of the Pacific roads sent in similar reports. There is no reason to believe that any of the roads will fail to comply with the provisions of the act, except, perhaps the Central Pacific. In response to a direct request from the chief of the bureau to answer definitely whether it is intended to furnish a report this company replies that the opinion of its attorneys will shortly be prepared and that it will then make known its determination in the matter

Gradual Approach to the Climax

[From the Troy Times]

A young clergyman whose maiden sisters were awfully sot against his entering the marital state, kicked over the traces and got married. He then sent a friend to break the news gently to the girls with instructions to open the negotiations by saying that he was dead, and then gently work up to the real fact

Here is what a critic heard an English tenor sing

Who comes to thee when howls do fly?
My honly darling hit is I
My hown, so good so fair and hartless'
Thou never never couldst be eartless
